My dear Sir.

Owing to certain unforeseen items of expenditure the balance of account standing to the credit of the Civil List has run down to less than a lac. and this His Highness desires me to say that he would be obliged if you would very kindly have the Completion mischief.

Ref. the Palace Officer overdrawn his account under the circumstances as it will probably not be possible to recoup the total amount of the overdraft as it stands on 1st July next, during the next official year alone. It cannot be in the nature of an accommodation. The amount with, it is presumed, have to be treated as a temporary advance towards the Civil List. Of course

Every effort will be made towards the accomplishment of this object as early as circumstances will permit.

Yours sincerely
P. Raychaudhuri
